

Greetings!

Going through this challenging time has been a burden for so many of you in HART's community. I know this because we've talked to hundreds of you over the past couple of months. We've appreciated and felt honored that you'd share your prayer needs with us so readily. You are in our thoughts and prayers daily.

We care because YOU are integral to the process of transforming lives that is happening every day through HART'S ministry in Eastern Europe. What makes HART unique is not merely our effectiveness or being adept at responding quickly to needs on the ground; it is the compassion of our donors for whom we are humbled to serve as the conduit.

Your donations represent more than just money or even the means for children and families to overcome poverty: they are a concrete expression of love. Love is, of course, synonymous with Jesus and the fullness of life He promised the world. That same love is also what defines HART.
